Allies Blast Red Bunkers; Commy Tones Down Charges

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—United Nations tanks today smashed into Communist positions on the Korea Central Front, blasting 48 Red bunkers.

A U.S. Eighth Army staff officer said the bunker-blasting activities left 15 Chinese dead and 49 wounded.

Tanks operating southwest of Kumsong inflicted most of the damage in a 55-minute barrage. Other tanks bombarded enemy positions south of Pyongyang, apex of the former iron triangle Red supply area.

Long range U.N. artillery shelled Communist truck convoys at least eight miles behind Red front line positions for 6½ hours last night and early today.

The staff officer said results could not be determined because of darkness.

Poor weather held patrol activity to a minimum.

The U.S. Fifth Air Force reported its night flying B-26 light bombers smashed 70 Red trucks and attacked Red rail lines in North Korea.

The Fifth Air Force said that during May it lost 45 planes over North Korea while destroying 39 Communist planes.

Tones Down Charges

MUNSAN, Korea (AP)—Blustery Gen. Nam Il, chief Red delegate at the Korean armistice talks, toned down his voice today as he railed again at Allied handling of Communist prisoner riots on Kojie Island.

But calm, quiet Maj. Gen. William C. Harrison, head United Nations Command negotiator, said "I have no idea that it has any significance at all."

The Red chieftain used milder tones in repeating his charges that the Allies are slaughtering Red prisoners on Kojie, the U.N. prison camp island, and are planning to retain permanently other Communist captives.

Whatever the meaning of the change in attitude, Harrison said Communist negotiators today didn't act like they were mad at anybody.

There was no progress in the 26-minute session on the issue blocking an armistice—what to do about 100,000 captured Red soldiers and civilian internees who say they would rather die than return to Communist rule.

MRS. COLEMAN TO HEAD LOCAL "FRESH AIR" UNIT

The Adams County "Friendly Town" Committee hopes to secure invitations for 50 "Fresh Air" youngsters within one month, Mrs. J. Walter Coleman, chairman of the committee, announced today.

Last year Adams County entertained 36 New York City youngsters at their homes and the committee hopes to increase the number to 50 this summer.

The youngsters, selected from homes in New York City tenements, would not have an opportunity to leave the city during the summer months if they were not sponsored by residents here, Mrs. Coleman said. All arrangements for the children are made through the local committee.

Members of the committee include Mrs. Coleman, Mrs. Clark Smith, Mrs. Raymond P. Sheely, Mrs. John D. Teeter, Mrs. Henry M. Scharf, Miss Maureen Nelson, Paul L. Roy, Rev. Robert Knechel, Rev. Supreme Court Strikes Down Truman Steel Industry Seizure On 6-3 Vote; Murray Calls Industry - Wide Strike

WASHINGTON (AP)—Philip Murray today called an industry wide steel strike close on the heels of the Supreme Court decision voiding President Truman's steel seizure.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court today struck down President Truman's seizure of the steel industry. The vote was 6 to 3.

Justice Black delivered the historic decision for the majority. It is almost certain to touch off another quick strike by some 650,000 CIO steel workers.

The court's ruling means the government will have to surrender ownership of the mills and thus will be unable to grant the wage boost Truman had promised the union in getting it to call off a three-day strike early last month.

In addition to the majority opinion by Justice Black separate concurring opinions were written by Justices Frankfurter, Douglas, Clark, Jackson and Burton.

For a few moments it appeared that the decision had been unanimous. Then reporters were handed a dissenting opinion by Chief Justice Vinson, in which Justices Reed and Minton joined.

CHOOSE GOALS CAREFULLY, GHS SENIORS TOLD

"You can have almost anything you want in life, if you want it badly enough and are willing to pay the price," the Rev. Howard S. Sheely, Trinity Reformed pastor from Hanover, told the 111 members of the graduating class of Gettysburg High School at baccalaureate-commencement exercises Sunday evening in the high school gymnasium.

Talking on the theme "Cheap Triumph or Magnificent Failure," the Rev. Mr. Sheely said: "Be careful how you choose your goals in life, because some things will cost more than they are worth. Choose your goal wisely, then stick to it regardless of obstacles or consequences," he advised.

"People we admire and respect most in life are those who have kept striving for high goals, regardless of whether they attained them. Lend 'your stubborn ounces' to some worthwhile cause that needs heroes."

The address preceded the presentation of diplomas by Dr. L. C. Keefer, superintendent of schools. The class roll was read by the high school principal, G. W. Lefever.

Music was furnished by the high school band and by the high school choir. The audience joined in the singing of the hymns, "O Worship the King" and "Faith of Our Fathers."

The invocation was given by the Rev. Arthur Leeming, superintendent of the Hoffman orphanage, after the academic procession led by the seniors and including faculty, directors and guests had entered the gymnasium. The offering was given to the A.M.E. Zion Church of Gettysburg.

The benediction was performed by the Rev. Robert Knechel, pastor of the Gettysburg Church of the Brethren, and the exercises closed with the procession by the band.

Ike Is Home; Doffs Uniform; Talks Wednesday In Abilene

WASHINGTON (AP)—Dwight D. Eisenhower, soldier turning politician, was here today to say farewell to arms.

Behind him were 37 years as an Army officer, including two periods as supreme commander of all the armies of the West in Europe.

Before him looms one of the roughest and most bitter political campaigns in recent history. And the hardest fighting is likely to be within the Republican party, for the presidential nomination which Sen. Robert A. Taft and others are seeking.

This was transition. Yesterday the five-star general stood by the plane which brought him from Paris, smiling in the warmth of a summer sun and a military welcome for a great soldier come home. Tomorrow afternoon he will be faced by the cold facts of political life.

To Doff Uniform

That is when he has said he will doff his uniform, after his last call at the Pentagon. He makes his first speech in multi at Abilene, Kan., Wednesday.

Even as he arrived, Taft's campaign headquarters got out a statement (Continued on Page 10)

Sen. McPherson Talks To Wilson Alumnae

Women must take a more active part in politics and develop the "latent power" of their vote, declared state Senator Donald P. McPherson Jr., at a meeting of the Wilson College Alumnae Association, Chambersburg, Saturday.

Taking part in a symposium on the political rights and privileges of women, Senator McPherson said, "Women have achieved economic and political equality. America's production has been increased by efficient woman power. Has politics been equally improved by woman's use of the ballot? Less than 50 per cent of the eligible voters went to the polls in the last presidential election."

Nearly 400 alumnae attended the afternoon meeting that was part of the all-day program planned to combine serious considerations of public problems with the pleasure of class reunions.

CLYDE LENHART, FORMER LOCAL MANAGER, DIES

Clyde R. Lenhart, 51, Reading, former local manager for the Metropolitan Edison Company, took his life by shooting himself while he and his wife were visiting with friends in Reading Friday evening. Members of his family said he had been depressed for some time.

Mr. Lenhart, who had been in the utility field for 27 years, left Gettysburg for Lebanon in November, 1946, after serving here about two years. The Lenharts lived on Baltimore St. and Mr. Lenhart was a member of the local Rotary Club. He was a graduate of Pennsylvania State College and was a Mason.

When he left here he was sent to Lebanon as a district operating superintendent and about six months ago had been promoted to superintendent of construction and maintenance for the company's central division and was moved to Reading.

Services Wednesday

Berks County Coroner Paul R. Good listed the death as suicide. Lenhart had left the company of his wife and friends and had gone to the second floor of the friends' residence when the group downstairs heard the shot.

Surviving are his widow, Marian L.; a son, Robert J., now stationed at Andrews Air Field, Washington, D. C., and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne B. Lenhart, West Lawn, Pa.

Funeral services Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock from the Auman Funeral Home, 247 Penn St., Reading, with a viewing Tuesday evening from 7 to 9 o'clock. Interment will be made at Laurelale Cemetery, Reading.

College Commencement Address

The following address was given by Major General Milton C. Baker, commandant of the Valley Forge Military Academy, Wayne, Pa., at commencement exercises at Gettysburg College Sunday afternoon on Memorial Field:

"I am delighted to have been accorded the privilege of addressing you Gettysburgians on this memorable occasion.

"For many years I have known and loved Gettysburg College. I have watched with keen interest the increased prestige and the very considerable expansion of this institution under the sage tutelage of Dr. Hanson.

"My sincere congratulations to all you members of the Class of 1952. Congratulations upon the intelligence, courage, and stamina which enabled you to complete your college courses. Congratulations upon your great good fortune in being born when you were. No graduating class ever faced a future with such wonderful possibilities—with such great promise and opportunities. Surely no individual graduate has ever been surrounded by a finer group of young men and women than those who are graduating from American universities and colleges in this year of 1952.

Challenging Days Ahead

"And so, again I say congratulations upon the exciting, the wonderful, the enviable, and the challenging days which lie ahead.

"For more than a decade and a half you have studied and you have learned. You have read great books—you have studied the past to prepare yourself for the future. You have been schooled carefully for the challenges which you will face. This accumulative knowledge will be of inestimable value in meeting the responsibilities of citizenship or our American Christian democracy.

Heiges, Chicago, executive secretary of the Division of Student Service of the National Lutheran Council, told members of the Gettysburg College graduating class in the baccalaureate sermon Sunday morning.

He called upon the seniors to do "some straight thinking and some courageous action."

Special Occasion

Calling attention to the special nature of the baccalaureate service this year, the speaker said: "It would have been altogether fitting for President Hanson himself to have been the preacher on this occasion and to have made a sort of valedictory. This I cannot do for him but I shall attempt to summarize what he has been saying to us for 29 years. . . . I did spend 17 years here (as student (Please Turn to Page 8)

In presenting the car to Dr. and Mrs. Hanson, President Apple of the Alumni Association, said, "The alumni have well recognized the marvelous work you have been able to accomplish in your 23 years at Gettysburg College. Over 1400 alumni, more than ever gave to the Loyalty Fund, have contributed to give you this automobile. I present to you, on behalf of the alumni of Gettysburg College, the keys to the 1952 Cadillac sedan standing outside."

The committee in charge of the gift for Dr. Hanson was William B. Stevens, class of 1925; Charles Eby, class of 1923, and Henry M. Scharf, class of 1925.

Adhered To Promise

In his annual message Dr. Hanson said: "The period has been punctuated by depression, war, post war confusion. The years have been very precious years. When I was a child I decided I would give my life to Him. I have tried to live up to that promise."

"Saying goodbye to Gettysburg College is like saying goodbye to my wife—it is inconceivable. In my 29 years, 6,146 alumni, who are still living, graduated. That compares with the approximate 7,500 members of the alumni association today."

Dr. Hanson paid tribute to his wife, board of trustees, Dean Dr. W. E. Tilber, Registrar C. R. Wolfe, Alumni Secretary C. Paul Cessna, Woman's League and the Central Pennsylvania Synod. "The great work of Gettysburg is just beginning."

In his talk Dr. Hanson praised the spirit of Gettysburg, the town of Gettysburg and The Gettysburg Times, "which so shocked me with their paper yesterday."

KINDER BEATS WHITE SOX 3-2; 18TH STRAIGHT

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer
Brooklyn is back in the lead in the National League today but all eyes are on the Boston Red Sox and their ancient righthander, Ellis Kinder.

Boston climbed to within one game of the American League pace-setting Cleveland Indians yesterday as Kinder hung up his 18th consecutive triumph over Chicago's White Sox with a 3-2 victory, in relief.

The tall Tennessean, who will be 38 next month, would be the best pitcher in baseball if he could face the White Sox all the time. He owns a 20-3 lifetime record against his windy city "consins." They haven't beaten him since the middle of the 1948 season.

Giants Lose Pair
A home run by Fred Hatfield, his first of the season, snapped a 2-2 tie in the seventh and gave Kinder his fourth victory of the season. Kinder replaced starter Bill Henry in the top of the seventh when the rookie southpaw raised a blister on his pitching hand. Saul Rogovin was the loser.

Meanwhile, the St. Louis Cardinals caught up with their nemesis, Dave Koslo, battering the leftfielder for six runs in five innings as they swept a doubleheader from the Giants, 6-7 and 8-2, to knock New York out of first place.

Koslo, who has won his last 10 decisions over the Cards, escaped defeat, however, when the Giants battled back to a 7-7 tie in the eighth inning. St. Louis then won the game in the bottom of the ninth against George Spencer when Enos Slaughter hit a home run with two out.

Al Brazie was credited with the win. Gerry Staley, backed by a 12-hit attack, won his ninth game in the nightcap which was called after 7½ innings because of darkness.

Brooklyn swept past the Giants into the No. 1 spot by edging the Chicago Cubs, 3-2. The Dodgers scored all their runs in the second inning, two of them coming on Gil Hodges' two-run homer.

The Boston Braves won their first game for new manager Charlie Grimm with an 18-hit 9-4 victory over Cincinnati after veteran southpaw Ken Raffensberger had pitched the Reds to a 1-0 masterpiece in the opener of the twin bill.

Senators, Tigers Divide
Ed Mathews rapped his eighth home run and Sam Jethroe collected four singles for the Braves as Warren Spahn coasted to his fifth success. Raffensberger permitted only five hits as he downed Vern Bickford in a pitching duel for his seventh triumph. A single by Andy Seminick scored Bob Borkowski with the only run in the ninth.

Ralph Kiner clouted his seventh homer with two out in the ninth inning to give the Pittsburgh Pirates a 2-1 victory and a split against the Philadelphia Phillies. Curt Simmons pitched a seven-hitter for his fourth triumph in the Phils' opening game, 5-1 victory.

In the American League, Lou Sleater won his third straight for Washington and Ted Gray gained his fifth for Detroit as the Senators and Tigers divided a doubleheader. The Senators won the first 4-3, and the Tigers the second game 6-3.

Rain washed out other scheduled games.

Interstate

By The Associated Press
The Lancaster Red Roses have found out what a pair of victories can mean in the tightly-bunched Interstate League standings. Over the week end they jumped from eighth to fifth place.

Top-notch relief pitching by Hank Franklin gave Lancaster a 3-2 decision over York yesterday following a 2-1 two-hitter by Doug Gostlin the night before.

Lancaster's surge almost overshadowed the lip-and-tuck battle being waged by Hagerstown and Wilmington for first place.

Hagerstown's Braves narrowed the Blue Rocks' lead to a half game by taking 5-3 and 5-4 victories from sixth-place Allentown. Wilmington was rained out both days in its scheduled games with last-place Sunbury as were Harrisburg and Salisbury.

YESTERDAY'S STARS
By The Associated Press
Battling: Pete Castiglione and Ralph Kiner, Pirates—Castiglione homered in the ninth to tie the game at 1-1 and Kiner followed two outs later with his seventh four-bagger of the season to give Pittsburgh a 2-1, second-game victory after the Phillies had won the opener, 5-1.

Pitching: Ken Raffensberger, Reds—Won a 1-0 hurling duel from Vern Bickford of the Boston Braves.

Eastern League

The Elmira Pioneers hit the road today after putting the double bee on the Williamsport Tigers and crowding the Eastern league flag chase.

The Pioneers, who open their swing at Schenectady tonight, threw their two "B-Boys"—Red Bielemeier and Herb Banton—at the tailenders yesterday and breezed to a 3-1, 8-1 sweep. The twin triumph enabled the Pioneers to break a fourth-place tie with Scranton and climb to within four and a half games of front-running Albany.

In the league's only other Sunday action, the Binghamton Triplets edged Schenectady, 5-3. Rain washed out doubleheaders at Albany, where the Hartford Chiefs were the attraction, and at Reading where the Scranton Miners were scheduled.

Drobny Defeats Frank Sedgman

PARIS (P)—Jaroslav Drobny, the Continent's No. 1 tennis player for the past two years, today set his sights on the famed Wimbledon title—and there were few experts who would be willing to bet against him.

The bespectacled Drobny, who plays out of Egypt after fleeing his native Czechoslovakia when the government went Communist, whipped Frank Sedgman, the Australian Davis Cup ace, 6-2, 6-0, 3-6, 6-4, yesterday in the final of the French International Championship.

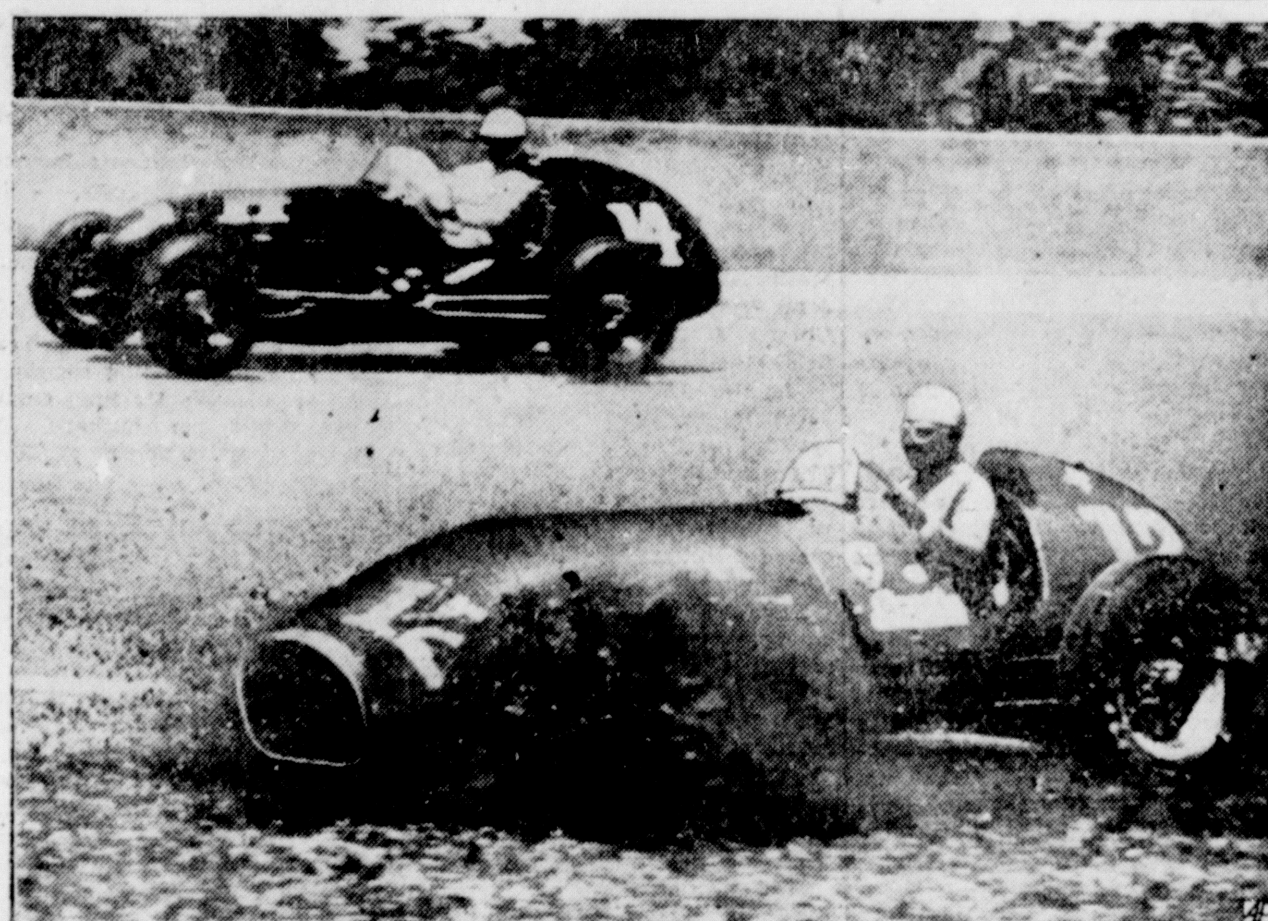

Doris Hart of Jacksonville, Fla., won the women's title when she turned back Shirley Fry of Akron, O., 6-4, 6-4.

MANGRUM WINS 1ST WESTERN OPEN

ST. LOUIS (P)—Lloyd Mangrum, nonchalantly showing the gallery what makes a great pro, wrapped up his first Western Open golf championship in a $2,400 check yesterday after ignoring the competition and stroking a 274 for his par-mocking 72-hole total.

The steady Chicago veteran finished six-under-par, the only entry to beat the regulation limit.
To do so Mangrum scored a new competitive course record, touring the stubborn Westwood Country Club in a six under 64. The record came on a lazy five-foot putt that barely dropped on the 18th green. It was his seventh birdie of the round.

The previous course record was a 65 carded by Ralph Guldahl as he won the 1938 Western in the tournament's only other appearance on Westwood's 6,616 yards.
Bobby Locke, recovering from a bad cold, finished in second place with a 282 total.

Union Bridge took over the lead in the Pen-Mar Baseball League by winning a thrilling 14-inning game from Thurmont on the Thurmont diamond Sunday. Four homers featured the game. The loss was the first for Thurmont and marked the fifth straight without a setback for the winners.

After the score was tied 4-4 at the end of the ninth Union Bridge scored twice in the 10th. In the last half Calimer, Thurmont shortstop, hit his second homerun of the game with a runner aboard to again knot the count. In the 14th Union Bridge scored the deciding run when a fly ball was lost in flight by an outfielder and a runner scored from second base. Harbaugh, Thurmont first baseman, and Shank, Union Bridge catcher, hit the other home-runs.

Cashtown downed New Oxford 5-3 at Cashtown in a game called after five innings due to rain. Singley turned in another fine hurling performance by yielding but four hits and whiffing eight batsmen.

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and
The Gettysburg Times

ONE HUNDRED YEARS AGO

The Japan Expedition: It is stated on the authority of the officers of the Dutch frigate Prince of Orange, that the emperor of Japan has strongly fortified every part of his coast, and has a body of well equipped soldiers ready to give the American expedition under Com. Perry a warm greeting. The Dutch officers all think our force despatched to that quarter as utterly inadequate to the task of forcing an entrance into the city of Jeddo.

Married: On Thursday evening last, by the Rev. E. McCollum, Mr. Henry Hughes, to Miss Anna Maria Mowrey—both of this borough.

On the 27th ult., by the Rev. D. P. Rosenmiller, Mr. Joshua Addes-parger, to Miss Barbara S. Kemper—both of this county.

On the 27th ult., by the Rev. S. Gutelius, Mr. Jacob Fisher, to Miss Catherine Sheely—both of Berwick County.

On the 7th of March, by Rev. Thomas F. Halliwell, Mr. John N. Morrison, to Miss Susanna Decker—both of Adams County.

Jennie Lind sailed from New York on Saturday, for Europe, with her husband. The eminent American writer, Grace Gribble, alias Clarke, went over in the same vessel.

Southern travel is now setting in northward in good earnest. Steamships from Savannah and from Charleston, which arrived at New York on Wednesday last, brought for example, an aggregate of 250 passengers, among whom are many families from the Carolinas, from Georgia, Alabama and Louisiana, enroute for the watering places. This is rather earlier than usual for the movements in that direction, but that is something nobody—certainly not the hotel keepers—will find fault with.

Reduction Of Fare: It is stated that passengers are now carried from Cleveland to Philadelphia, by the Ohio and Pennsylvania and Central Railroad, for eleven dollars, the price charged from Pittsburgh to Philadelphia. This is caused by the competition with the Dunkirk route to the East.

SEVENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Decoration Day: On Wednesday the Decoration Day ceremonies in Gettysburg were under the control of Corporal Skelly Post No. 9. On Tuesday evening the town began to fill up with visitors. Wednesday morning was ushered in with a national salute of 38 guns from Cemetery Hill. The crowd was swelled by the arrival of large excursion trains from Washington, Philadelphia and York—the number on the cemetery grounds during the exercises being estimated at from 8,000 to 10,000.

The Procession:—at 1 1/2 p.m. the work of forming the procession in the Diamond was commenced, W. D. Holtzworth acting as chief marshal, assisted by Maj. H. S. Benner, Capt. C. H. Elcholtz and Hanson Mark. Finally the procession moved up Baltimore St., including the members of the Grand Army of the Republic, visiting Military, Knights of Pythias, the children of the Public Schools, bearing banners of the several States represented in the National Cemetery and carrying bouquets of flowers, and citizens. The 2nd Regiment Drum Corps, Neville, Bendersville and Gettysburg Bands were assigned positions in the line. Many of the prominent residences and places of business were gaily decked with flags.

Among the floral tributes borne in the procession, we noticed a very large and handsome bouquet, which had been sent from York by Miss Ann Newman (formerly of Gettysburg) as a special tribute to the memory of Corporal Johnston H. Skelly.

Major Robert Bell had the supervision of the police arrangements on the grounds.

The ceremony of strewing the flowers having been completed, the crowd gathered around the stand where the balance of the program took place as follows:

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

RELAXATION POWER

It's that small fraction of rest between heart-beats that helps so much to store power in this physical frame of ours. The heart needs that relaxation of brief time so that the entire body may perform efficiently.

The human body is the most amazing creation in all this world, yet many give greater care to their automobiles than they do to their bodies. Every machine and every human being needs a rest period. Not only do we need periodic relaxation but we need new scenery in our lives, and frequent changes to stimulate our interests.

We all know of those who have no time for vacations, travel, hobbies, or a selection of friends. We listen to them as they boast of their work. But if you know such people long enough you will note their growing pessimistic in their viewpoints, and they keep breeding complaints. It is largely because they never relax, never allow the healthy stream of interests and friends to balance the weight of setbacks, worries and discouragements. Relaxation enables us to get caught up with ourselves!

If you note a champion golfer, tennis player, or bowler, you will see how quickly he relaxes between each stroke or play. He depends upon that relaxation power to give him his triumphs. You will observe this in a boxing contest. After a fast, hard round, one or both contestants will take it easy, relax and build strength for the more vital later rounds.

It's that way with life. Relaxation power may prove to be the difference between success and failure for us. We need clear vision, a quick acting brain, and a body that will bear the beating of strenuous activity. Even as we rest we can think. In fact, we think best and to the most good when we take time out for meditation and relaxation of body.

The story of one's life is written upon the lines and planes of the human face. Beauty, power, integrity, and the results from an abiding faith and a relaxed life, all may be seen there.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Diaries," Protected, 1952, by The George Matthew Adams Service

Just Folks

THE GREAT OBSTACLE

He might have given; he might have shared.

One obstacle, from day to day, barred him from showing that he cared:

He let himself get in the way.

He knew to aid a cause he ought,

He could have spared an hour or two,

But given the chance he always thought

Of something else he'd rather do.

Oh, there was much he might have done,

But chose a selfish role to play.

One obstacle he faced—just one:

He let himself get in the way.

Class Reunions

The following college class reunions were held Saturday:

1892-1897
Dr. Charles Finley Sanders, St. Petersburg, Fla., was the only member of the class of 1892 to return for the group's 60th anniversary and he and Mrs. Sanders joined the class of 1897 in a private dining room at the Hotel Gettysburg for their reunion.

Presiding over the joint reunion was Robbin B. Wolf, Pittsburgh attorney. The class has permanent officers so the dinner hour was devoted to reminiscences. Greetings were received from the absent class agent, A. J. White Hutton, Chambersburg, but these members were here: Dr. Lewis C. Manges, Harrisburg; Dr. George Hay Kain, York, secretary-treasurer of the class; Harry Olewine, Hazleton; Rev. Horace C. Clute, Brooklyn; Robert B. McClean, Washington, D. C., formerly of Gettysburg, and Mr. Wolf. The class holds a reunion each year.

Five members of the class of 1895 met at 6 o'clock Saturday evening for their reunion dinner at the Shetter House, Chambersburg. St. William B. Keefe, Reading, class president, who was unable to be present because of illness, sent regrets. He was unanimously re-elected president.

Members present were: Charles Bell, Columbia, S. C.; Dr. W. H. Feldmann, York; Rev. Luther F. Miller, Hagerstown; Rev. George I. Uhler, Lewisberry, Pa.; Rev. H. F. Richards, Westminster, Md. The class had as a guest a member of the class of 1890, Rev. Dr. S. T. Nicholas of Upper Darby, Philadelphia.

There were 13 around the class reunion table of the class of 1900 at the Hotel Gettysburg Saturday evening. Six of them were members of the class that has been holding reunions annually since 1945. Judge McClean Stock of York, president of the class for life, presided. Others present included Roy C. Dougherty and wife of Reading; J. Clyde Markel, Pittsburgh; Jesse S. Keller, York; William J. Miller, Philadelphia, and Mrs. Miller; Dr. Frank C. Cole, Mobile, Ala., and Mrs. Cole.

The class of 1902 observed its 50th anniversary with a banquet at the Shetter House, Chambersburg St., Saturday evening at 5:30 o'clock. Dr. D. Montfort Melchior, Lansdowne, was re-elected general officer of the group. Dr. Melchior, a lecturer at the University of Pennsylvania School of Education, Philadelphia, is chairman of the Lansdowne Planning Commission; a trustee of the Perkiomen School, Pennsburg, Pa. He was given a testimonial dinner on his 70th birthday, last December 12 by 300 citizens of Lansdowne.

Each member gave an account of his life since leaving college half a century ago. Among the ten graduates and two non-graduates who attended were: C. S. Karman, Lebanon; I. Bruce Armit, Glen Ridge, Pa.; David G. Martin, Union Deposit, Pa.; F. A. Hightman, Baltimore; Dr. Melchior; Wilbur H. Fleck, Kingston, Pa.; William C. Ney, Brookline, Delaware Co., Pa.; Paul G. Cressman, Lewistown; P. D. Witman, Pennhurst School, Spring City, Pa.; S. B. Emmert, Newton Square, Pa.; and W. S. Grenoble, Rehoboth Beach, Del. Mrs. Karman attended as a guest.

Members of the Class of 1907 of Gettysburg College voted, at their reunion Saturday evening at the YWCA, to give a window in the new chapel at the college.

There were 15 of the 20 living graduates of this class present at the 45th reunion dinner. Nelson Sharets, Gettysburg, was elected president; the Rev. Clifford Hays, Philadelphia, vice president; Lloyd L. Lammert, Woodbury, N. J., secretary-treasurer; Dr. Clifford Hartman, Pittsburgh, class agent, and Mr. Lammert, alumni representative.

Following the dinner an open house was held at the home of Miss Martha Sachs, 325 Hanover St.

1906-1908-1909-1910
An informal get-together and dinner of these classes who were in college at the same time was held Saturday evening at the ATO fraternity house, N. Washington St. Dr. John B. Zinn, professor of chemistry at Gettysburg College, was in charge of the arrangements.

1912
The Rev. Dr. Harry H. Beidleman, pastor of St. Matthew's Lutheran Church, Hanover, president of the Class of 1912 since its graduation, announced his retirement at the class reunion held at Trinity Evangelical Reformed Church Saturday evening, and Joseph Fritchey, Woodbury, N. J., was elected president in his place.

15 KILLED ON P.A. HIGHWAYS OVER WEEK END

By The Associated Press

Accidents on Pennsylvania's rain swept highways accounted for all but three of the state's 18 Memorial Day week-end fatalities. Two drownings were reported and one man was killed by a freight train over the three-day period ending at midnight last night.

Five of the accidents occurred on the Pennsylvania Turnpike. The victims were a soldier, two women, and two men, one unidentified.

There were three fatal accidents and one drowning in the Pittsburgh area. The other drowning occurred in Philadelphia. The remainder of the accidents were scattered throughout the state.

Killed By Train

The freight train struck and killed Miles I. Thierwechter, 56, of Lebanon, while he was fishing yesterday near Lancaster.

The first reported fatality was Mrs. Helen Keefe, of Irwin, who died in Greensburg Hospital Thursday from injuries suffered when her automobile collided with a truck.

Then, on Memorial Day, a 16-year-old Lebanon boy was killed near his home when he was struck by a car. Police said the victim, Charles McClellan, jumped in front of the auto "for a joke" thinking the vehicle could swerve before striking him.

Nine-year-old Glen Geary drowned the same day in a pool at the Stanton Heights Golf Course, near Pittsburgh.

Turnpike Tragedies

The first turnpike death occurred near Morgantown early Saturday when the automobile of Mrs. Mary Raiffeisen, of Havertown, a Philadelphia suburb, skidded out of control. She was thrown from her vehicle to an embankment. She was a former Pittsburgh resident.

Her three young children, traveling with her to visit relatives in Berks county, were also thrown from the car but only two were hurt, none seriously.

Also killed on the turnpike was Mrs. Charles Billow Jr., of Haverford, a former Carlisle resident, who died in a head-on collision about two miles west of King of Prussia, on Memorial Day.

Fifth For "Super"

Charles D. Gettym, 41, Greensburg, died Saturday in a collision with a truck on the turnpike near Bedford.

The soldier, Pvt. Houston Brasher, 22, of Anniston, Ala., died in a Memorial Day crash which was also near the Bedford interchange of the turnpike.

The fifth turnpike victim, an unidentified motorist, collided with a tractor trailer on Saturday.

In the Pittsburgh area, Harry H.

Yeckel, 61, was killed Saturday night when he was pinned against his son's auto by another car. The accident occurred in front of his Shaler Township home.

The same night, a girl identified as Emma Turyan, 25, of Pittsburgh died in an auto which struck a pole near Pittsburgh's Schenley Park.

The third Pittsburgh traffic victim was 10-year-old Harry Rosenberger, who was struck by a car yesterday while riding his bicycle near his North Side district home.

Two At Harrisburg

Near Butler, Anthony R. Henigan, 35-year-old Pennsylvania Railroad conductor, of Valencia, was killed in a head-on crash with another car Friday on Route 8.

Another head-on collision the following day near Spring City on the Pottstown-Phoenixville Road, claimed the life of William Yost, 40, a Pottstown resident.

There were two deaths in the Harrisburg area yesterday. Howard Loper, 43, of nearby West Fairview, was killed when his truck struck a guard rail on the new M. Harvey Taylor Bridge. Loper was the first fatality on the six-month old bridge. His vehicle hit with such force his body was thrown into the Susquehanna River.

Yesterday's second Harrisburg area victim was a five-year-old Port Traverton child. Lynn Stroth was struck by an automobile as he attempted to cross U. S. Route 11, five miles south of Selinsgrove.

Youth Drowns

Mrs. Mary Bachman, 67, of Bath, was killed yesterday when an automobile driven by her husband collided with a skidding truck on Route 512, two miles south of Bath. The second drowning occurred in Philadelphia's rain swollen Pennypack Creek yesterday.

The victim, John McCloud, 18-year-old Philadelphia high school swimming star, drowned when a boat he occupied with three companions was swept over an 11-foot dam. The others made their way to shore through the swirling waters.

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Scott Anderson, 55, is one of the few men who have had an elephant sit on his chest and lived to tell about it.

Scott, attendant for the Clyde Beatty Circus elephant, Inez, was hospitalized after his charge knocked him down and squatted on him.

"I wouldn't be here now," Anderson said, "if a pal hadn't come to my rescue with a bull hook."

During the war the college civilian student body was less than 350 but in the post war period it increased to 1268, the largest in the school's history.

TAFT ASSAILS WEAK AIR POWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Robert A. Taft says a strong American foreign policy must be built around air power potent enough to protect this continent from attack and capable of bombing Russia's heartland.

On this score, the Ohio senator said, the administration and Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, his principal opponent for the Republican presidential nomination, have failed.

Taft said "there has been a steady deterioration in our comparative air power, which began while Gen. Eisenhower was chief of staff."

The administration, Taft declared, has permitted this nation to lose the air supremacy it had at the end of World War II while spending billions of dollars on overseas handouts.

In a speech broadcast nationally by NBC yesterday, the Ohio senator made only passing mention of Eisenhower by name but he apparently was making his first political speech in Abilene, Kas., Wednesday. Eisenhower arrived here from Paris yesterday to start winding up his military duties before beginning a self-limited presidential nomination campaign.

CLARK AND RHEE
CONFER IN CRISIS

PUSAN, Korea (AP)—Gen. Mark Clark today told President Syngman Rhee he hoped the current South Korean political crisis "would not interfere with the military situation."

Rhee said in a statement he assured the United Nations Far East commander there would be no removal of troops from the Korean battle front in connection with the political crisis.

The President threw Korean politics into an uproar May 24 when he proclaimed martial law around Pusan, the provisional capital. Since then 12 national assemblymen have been arrested.

The legislative body is due to elect a president late this month. Clark and Gen. James A. Van Fleet, U.S. Eighth Army commander, conferred with officials of the United Nations Commission for Unification and Rehabilitation of Korea (UNCURK) before meeting with Rhee for 35 minutes.

The commission had urged Rhee to lift martial law and free the jailed assemblymen. Rhee wrote the commission but ignored the two requests.

Riflemen Set Two New World Records

DUBOIS, Pa. (AP)—Sharp-shooting riflemen broke two world records in the final round yesterday of the Eastern States Bench Rest tournament here.

Al Marciate of Trenton, N. J., fired 10 shots from 100 yards, scoring a 313 aggregate. That means he grouped his 10 shots in an area slightly smaller than a thumb tack.

Byron Gordon of Berryville, Va., near Washington, scored 744 from 200 yards. His 10 shots all landed in an area the size of a dime.

COULDN'T BEAT HOGAN

None of the 16 entries at the Gettysburg Country Club were able to better Ben Hogan's 71 score Saturday as National Golf Day was observed throughout the country. Kermit Deardorff and Sam Miller each scored 72s in the closest local competition.

ACCIDENTS SET
NEW HIGH MARK

By The Associated Press

Mounting returns on the Memorial Day week end death toll from highway crashes skyrocketed today to a new all-time record for the extended holiday.

At least 353 persons died during the three-day holiday. This was two more than were killed in traffic accidents during the four-day Memorial Day holiday of 1950 when the previous all-time record of 347 traffic deaths was recorded.

The National Safety Council had predicted this year's loss of lives during the 78 hour period from 6 p. m. Thursday until midnight Sunday would reach 310.

The previous high for a three-day Memorial Day week end was 253, recorded in 1949.

Other forms of violent deaths, including 81 drowning and 62 in a variety of accidents, made the holiday toll this year at least 489. There are no authoritative comparisons for the overall traffic-drowning-miscellaneous total.

Undergraduate awards include membership in Phi Beta Kappa and Delta Sigma Rho, honorary national scholastic and forensic fraternities. At the University of Pennsylvania he was recently initiated into Phi Delta Kappa, national fraternity basing membership on scholastic and educational research. He is teacher of history and mathematics at New Oxford High School.

Front Yard Flowers Give Beautiful Frame To House

Planting about a house should be a decoration, carefully planned to enhance the beauty of the building, completing an attractive picture as it is viewed from the street.

When tall trees dwarf the house, and over-large shrubs and evergreens hide it, and prevent the occupants from seeing out of the windows, the planting has not achieved its purpose.

Only low growing plants should be planted in front of low homes; and the brightly colored annuals of dwarf habit are becoming popular as the most suitable plants for this purpose. Their color gives a welcome touch, and they leave the view from windows unobstructed. Seed may be started early in seed-boxes indoors and grown to a size suitable for transplanting by the time the soil can be prepared. Here are many varieties which will grow quickly from seed sown directly in the border where the plants are to grow, and they will bloom until freezing weather comes in the fall. Besides providing a decoration for the house, many annuals are suitable for cutting, to be used in the house.

The fashion for flowers in the front yard is spreading rapidly. An example of the effect which they produce is given in the illustration.

The line where house wall meets the ground is planted with a border of zinnias growing two feet tall, bearing single flowers of richly varied pink and yellow.

Edging this border is a row of dwarf marigolds. There are many other combinations which could be used in a similar way to produce a pleasing effect, in harmony with the colors of house wall and roof. In planting near modern houses simple color schemes, two, not over three, harmonious colors, are usually considered best. Any of the sun-loving annuals which grow to a suitable height may be used on the east, west and south sides of houses; but on the north varieties which are known to endure shade must be chosen.

JAKARTA, Indonesia (P)—Several groups of armed outlaws, totaling 192 men, have given themselves up to authorities in the rice district of West Java, according to police reports.

The report said they did not belong to any political combat group but were "ordinary bandits" who had operated in the area since before World War II.

MORE PORK AT LOWER COST

Until the American public decides to rescue their meat production and distribution from the bungling theorizing of urban academicians in government, home raising of an adequate store of meat for family use is a wise and profitable aim. And because hogs are brought to edible size in less than a year, in comparison with the longer time and greater investment of materials, and equipment for raising beef cattle, pork will remain a more desirable meat to give families freedom from excessively costing meats now restricted under our present intolerant conditions.

One of the most important factors in raising pigs is to forsake the old filthy dry-lot idea and to substitute clean pastures. Not only does luxuriant pasture furnish hogs lower costing feed, but the animals escape from several dangerous internal parasites which cause stunting and general debility common to the contaminated soils of barren lots.

In planning hog pasture it is necessary, of course, to admit that sweet clover, alfalfa, and the new Ladino clover make the best grazing. But several annual crops may be grown for this purpose, including rye, wheat, oats, rape, soybeans, and cowpeas. Rye may be seeded in late August and grazed until winter, with grazing resumed in late March. Or it may be seeded from late February until late April for early summer pasturage. Rape may be seeded from early March until late June. Among non-leguminous crops rape is perhaps the cheapest and best hog pasture because it remains green and productive even until late fall.

To obtain satisfactory returns from hog pasture it is necessary in all cases to have two equal fields or to fence the one field into two equal parts. Without rotation grazing to permit plants to recover top growth, hog pastures will likely prove a disappointing investment.

Supplemental feeding is needed, regardless of how much and how excellent the pasturage is. In a self-feeder located where the animals may reach it easily should be kept accessible tankage, charcoal, salt, steamed bone meal, ground limestone, and perhaps fresh wood ashes. Many raisers supply a mineral mixture of these in handy open boxes although the self-feeder method with minerals kept in separate bins proves that hogs are better judges of their physical requirements than is man.

The water supply is likewise important. Two evil extremes should be avoided. First, hogs do not require muddy wallows. They indulge in these simply because there is a theory that such insanitary freedom is necessary. But if the animals are ranged on fresh, clean pasture they soon demonstrate that they do not demand mud and filth. Next, water furnished must be clean. Running water preferable, but in case water must be artificially supplied in troughs, the receptacles should be cleaned daily.

Will hogs ruin pastures by rooting?

Not if they are properly fed. Experience proves that hogs having access to tankage with the minerals already recommended will enjoy pasture with little or no rooting.

BULLET-PROOF VESTS PROTECT PLANTERS

JOHORE BAHRU, Malaya (P)—American carabines and bullet-proof vests will soon be protecting Malaya's rubber planters against Red terrorist attacks.

R. A. Coles, chairman of the Johore Planters Association, said the United Planting Association of Malaya has carried out successful tests with a type of American bullet-proof vest. Malaya's rubber planters, who have lost 64 colleagues in the past three years in terrorist ambushes, have been demanding better protection.

GOVERNMENT TO SELL OIL CAIRO, (P)—The Iraq cabinet has authorized the economy ministry to sell three million tons of crude oil, the Arab news agency reports. Iraq gets the crude oil under a royalty arrangement with the British-run Iraq Petroleum Co.

When Egyptians stopped using scarabs at the end of the 26th dynasty, foreigners continued to make imitations of them.

NEW CAMPAIGN BRINGS NEW SCREWY THINGS

NEW YORK (P)—The 1952 baseball season still is an infant but here are some of the screwy things that have taken place:

An umpire—Scotty Robb—got fined for pushing, of all people, Manager Eddie Stanky of the Cardinals.

Leo Durocher of the Giants protests Augie Gugiellmo's call of a third strike on one of his batters but nothing happens. We thought questioning a third strike meant automatic banishment.

A Phillie, Stan Lopata, fails to run from third base on two out, the batter reaches first on an error and Lopata is left stranded as the next batter is retired. And Manager Eddie Sawyer was coaching at third base.

The Giants are leading the Braves by two runs in the eighth inning yet Durocher lifts his No. 4 hitter, temporarily Henry Thompson, for a pinch swinger. You don't lift your No. 4 batter in any situation, say wise baseball men, but then who says Thompson (not Bobby) is a No. 4 hitter?

Roy Campanella, a good No. 4 hitter, bunts in a tie game. Another old baseball adage is that "you don't bunt your No. 4 hitter." We disagree with that one. In this case Campy's bunt paid off for the Dodgers as the next batter singled home the winning run.

Corcoran Can't Travel

If Fred Corcoran, boss of the Ladies' PGA and the Weathervane tournaments, decides to return to the men's PGA as promotion director, he will not travel. His commitments with the golfers and their promoter, Alvin Handmacher, come first. The cross-country Weathervane tournaments are catching on even though Patty Berg, the Bauer sisters et al will have a hard job catching Babe Zaharias.

A Silly Philly Rule

Jimmy Dykes of the Athletics is in crying need of a player or two yet he can't take one of the Phillies, even if one of their men is waived on by other National League clubs.

"The Athletics and Phillies have a rule against taking the other team's players," says Dykes. "Seems it might make one club look bad if a player, on leaving one team, started to go well with the other team."

Tom Brown, once a Dodger, will be cut adrift by the Phillies and the A's certainly could use him as infield or outfield bench strength.

Wonder what Commissioner Ford Frick thinks about this rule? It certainly wasn't made for the benefit of the player.

How About Bigger Umps?

When will baseball get smart and put a minimum size requirement on its umpires? It's almost impossible for a little rookie like Augie Gugiellmo, fresh from the Texas League, to make an honest call of a pitched ball when he stands behind fellows the size of Roy Campanella, Walker Cooper and Elba St. Claire. These fellows are almost as wide as Augie is tall.

Freed Political Prisoner Tells Of Prison Horrors

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

ROME (P)—What does it mean to be a political prisoner in a Soviet prison?

Creeping insanity. Maddening boredom. Life in perpetual semi-darkness. Nocturnal screams of attempted suicides. Foul conditions. Sudden searches. Long sieges of sleepless questioning. Physical and mental breakdown. Babbling confessions.

Claudio De Mohr, an Italian diplomat, was a prisoner for six years. He was taken into custody by the Russians in Bulgaria, along with 11 other Italians, in 1944. In September, 1950, he was released with 10 others. The 12th, a woman, did not stand up long under the treatment. She died in 1945.

De Mohr, in his office in the Chigi Palace, Italy's Foreign Ministry, gave this description of life in a Moscow prison:

Lefortovo Prison, one of a number of Moscow prisons, has 225 cells. Three prisoners are confined in each cell. It was there that the diplomats spent most of their six-year nightmare. In 1950 they were moved to Bytarka, the biggest of the prisons, which houses 20,000, and in the final months to notorious Lubyanka, where Soviet police boss Lavrenty Beria has his office. It is the most dreaded of all.

Clothing As Part Of Torture

The diplomats were captured in the summer and were wearing light clothing. They never got any other, even in the bitter days of the Moscow winters.

Lefortovo has four tiers of cells. The diplomats were placed, three to a cell, in widely separated parts of the prison.

Each cell is about six feet wide, 10 feet long. Each contains three board beds and a cotton blanket. The arrangement leaves a space of about two feet between the sidewalk bunks. A prisoner can make about six steps forward and back, his only exercise.

The big windows of the prison are boarded, shutting out the light. The cell is always semi-dark. Light comes from an electric bulb set deep in the wall so the prisoners cannot get at it. The light, giving a dim red glow, is on at all times. Even if there had been something to read, it would have been too dark.

For air there is a small vent, half open most of the time. The prisoners are not allowed to approach it. For heat—for the first two years there was none at all—there is a small covered pipe running from cell to cell and giving off maddeningly little warmth. The floor is asphalt and constantly covered with dust.

The big wooden cell door is lined with metal, inside and outside. Even an accidental glimpse of any other prisoner is made impossible.

The Guard System

A sentinel sits in the center of the cellblock. When a prisoner must leave his cell for any reason, the guard in front of the cell signals to the sentinel. If no other prisoner is out of his cell at the time, the head guard raises a white flag, meaning the coast is clear and the prisoner may be brought out. A red flag means the prisoner must wait—somebody else is out.

When the prisoner is brought out of the cell, any common criminal who might be about, working at chores forbidden political prisoners, must immediately turn and stand with his face to the wall until given the clear signal.

Regulations call for a 10-minute walk every day in a "walk box" in the courtyard. Sometimes, however, there are no walks for weeks. But the walk is worth little. The walk boxes are closed off so that the prisoner cannot see any other. The walk box is about the size of a small kitchen.

Exercise Is Prohibited

The prisoner is forbidden to do setting up exercises on his own. A guard explained: Exercises use up energy. Energy needs food. Food is insufficient to permit it. A prisoner caught in an attempt to do setting up exercises will be punished severely.

There are any number of minor infractions calling for severe punishment, often in the awful "kartsa." This is a cell in the cellar of the prison. It is less than six feet square, with a low ceiling which forbids standing upright. Always terribly cold, the cell is like a tomb. Its only furniture is a board upon which the prisoner may crouch to try to sleep, but he must keep moving to keep from freezing.

Bread And Water

At 7 a.m. each morning in the kartsa, the prisoner gets a piece of bread about the size of a cigarette package, and a glass of warm water.

At 5 p.m., he gets another glass of warm water. The minimum confinement in the kartsa is three days and three nights in winter; five days and five nights in summer. De Mohr had three sentences in the kartsa, one for tapping a message on the wall to

STRONG ATOMIC BLAST SUNDAY

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (P)—A strong atomic blast, old hat to atom-wise citizens of Las Vegas, jolted and excited residents over wide areas of Northern and Southern California early yesterday.

An atmospheric quirk bounced the bomb's brilliant flash and sound 400 miles over mountains and into California from the Yucca Flat test site.

Two thuds loud enough to awaken residents and rattle windows were heard in Modesto, Calif., 350 miles from the blast, according to Otto Schroder, city editor of the Modesto Bee.

Police switchboards throughout the Los Angeles metropolitan area lit up like Christmas trees when excited citizens called to find out what had happened.

But in Las Vegas, only 75 miles from the blast, there was no excitement.

A thousand troops watched from foxholes about 7,000 yards from the explosion. They jumped from their positions 20 seconds after the detonation and moved "very close" to the firing area behind tanks and Army radiological safety monitors.

Socialists Nominate; Thomas Won't Run

CLEVELAND (P)—The Socialist party's new candidate for president called today for a "bang up drive" for votes.

"Our program will show that the common people can win greater freedom and a larger share of the national income," declared Darlington Hoopes, 55, an attorney of Reading, Pa.

The socialists unanimously picked him as their presidential candidate at their 28th national convention which ended here yesterday. He had been named to his fourth straight term as party chairman earlier in the convention. Norman Thomas, Socialist presidential candidate six times, refused to run again and did not attend the meeting.

the next cell, the others for being stubborn in an interrogation. They stripped him of all but shirt and underwear in the kartsa and the cold was almost unbearable.

Because of suicide attempts, prisoners are compelled to sleep flat on their backs, hands above their heads, blankets covering only the lower part of the body. When a prisoner moves in his sleep, the guard raps furiously on the food box at the cell door, waking everybody, and the prisoner must resume the required position.

Depending upon the guard, the prisoner can be punished for changing his position in his sleep. Women guards, says De Mohr, are the worst of all.

Philosopher Dewey Dies Sunday At 92

NEW YORK (P)—Philosopher John Dewey, 92, often described as the father of Progressive Education, died last night.

He was stricken with pneumonia Saturday, just a few days after he was reported recovering from a broken hip. He died at his Fifth Avenue home.

Few, if any, men had as much influence on educational thinking of his time. Dewey's idea was that emphasis should be placed on the individual child rather than on the subject.

The shells of birds' eggs are made mostly of carbonate of lime.

ing taskmaster. Now your job here is accomplished successfully. Today you receive a diploma, which, in substance, is a symbol of your earnest and conscientious efforts of yesterday. Your successes and failures tomorrow, however, lie within yourself. If you will but remember to do the best you can, with what you have, where you are, success will attend you.

Warns Of Pessimists

"As you start out on your own, you will meet many people, particularly of my generation, who scorn the present—pessimists who decry the lack of opportunities in this day and age, and talk only of the glories and the splendor of the past. They revel in theorizing on the blackness of the future."

"My young friends, these selfpitizing individuals are victims of their own ineptness. They blame their personal failures in life on the contagion of the times. Believe me, their line of reasoning is not only spurious, but fallacious. Despite the hurdles and obstacles that inevitably lie ahead in every man's path, your potential futures are unlimited.

"Since the beginning of the industrial revolution men and women have made almost unbelievable technological strides. The harnessing of nuclear fission, the conquering of supersonic flight, and the perfection of techniques of mass communication, are all visual indications of this phenomenal progress. However, we have yet but scratched the surface, and yours will be the privilege of contributing to the developments of tomorrow.

"Man Is Lustful"

"Unfortunately, I cannot be as complimentary about the moral and sociological conditions which presently exist, for they have not kept pace with our scientific and industrial development. Man is still lustful, greedy, selfish, and vain, as indicated by the wanton and savage atrocities of the Nazis and Communists during the past twenty years.

"I do not subscribe to the theory, however, that man, as a moral being, has not matured. Christianity and democracy in the past two hundred years have spread and nurtured each other. Hand in hand, they have struggled onward as ever-glowing symbols of freedom, faith, and goodness and these virtues will prevail ultimately throughout the world. It must be obvious to you, as students, that it is more difficult to cure the moral and sociological ills of the world, than it is to correct its technological errors.

"You members of this graduating class will shortly find your places in organized society—either in commerce, the ministry, law, medicine, teaching, or the arts. The common welfare of mankind is excellently served by these and other occupations. If you possess courage, patience, diligence, and the will to do the best you can, with what you have, where you are, you will succeed in your chosen field of endeavor and gain the material things of life. This, however, should be only part of your fight for success.

Obligation As Citizen
"If you have obtained from Gettysburg the full fruits that have been offered you, your goal will lie beyond the mere possession of material things. It is your duty to give to society more than you receive. Your greatest obligation, as a graduate of this fine, Christian College, is to make this world a better place in which to live. The salvation of western civilization lies in the hands of America—in fact, it lies in your hands!

"In one and-half short centuries we have transformed this country from a sparsely settled virgin forest into a vast and mighty industrial empire.

"While accomplishing this almost unbelievable feat, we have not neglected our moral obligations. The greatness of America does not lie in our production lines alone. It lies equally in the contributions we have made to man's spiritual progress. We have cast off the shackles of Colonial bondage to become the most inspiring example of self rule and personal freedom the world has ever seen. By dint of pioneer courage, dynamic action, and hard work we have prospered magnificently. We have demonstrated that a nation can produce and yet retain individual freedom. We have proved that man can serve his country without servitude or subjugation. We have proved that man can govern with kindness and justice, without iniquities and barbarism.

Urges Courageous Action
"You are all familiar with the tense and critical international situation. So I will not presume to belabor you with its details. It is sufficient to state that Communism in Europe and Asia and taxation here at home are exceedingly complex problems that must be solved. To the weak in spirit they will be terrifying, but to the strong in heart, they will be a challenge—a challenge to meet their impact with courageous, positive action.

"In your chosen fields you will all have an opportunity to contribute to the solution of these problems. Solve them you will, if you do the best you can, with what you have, where you are.

"We have the technical knowledge, the industrial 'know how,' and the collective ability to make this a better world. You must gird on the full armor of God, which to win this struggle for the perpetuation of a free society.

"The cost of liberty is high, but self-abnegation, toil, and denial are a cheap price to pay for freedom.

Tribute To Hanson
"During the past four years, you young men and women have been guided and profoundly influenced by a man of great heart and spirit. I know of no finer prize that you could take from this campus than the will to emulate him in the years ahead. As a spiritual adviser and capable administrator, Henry Hanson has well earned his position of eminence in both theology and education. No better testimonial could be tendered to any man than the admiration and love that the thousands of Gettysburgians have for and faculty member) and I did listen to the President on hundreds of occasions, both public and private. Over the years he has said two things so many times and in so many ways that I shall never forget them. I shall repeat them once more for you today because you should never forget them.

"For a long, long time, the President of this college has been telling generation after generation of students the same thing: 'Remember Jesus Christ.' It must be acknowledged that it takes some effort to remember Jesus in the academic and cultural setting of a modern institution of higher learning.

God's Word Important
"Let me say to you, members of the Class of 1952, with all the vigor at my command that this story of the high and holy God becoming man is terribly important. As a matter of fact, as you leave the gates of this college and walk out into the unknown future your whole destiny depends upon the truth of this Divine Drama.

"Philosophical reflection may open up the possibility of meaning in this universe but philosophy cannot demonstrate its actuality. The amazing patterns scientists find in Nature seem to point to 'something back of it all' (as we say), but they merely point. And there is no denying that great poetry, great music, great art in any field, as well as every burst of heroism and sacrifice, stir within us intimations of something beyond the limits of our earthbound humanity, but they are just that—'intimations of immortality,' nothing more. Without God's sure Word to us in Christ, we are doomed forever to wander in the mists of uncertainty and to sink slowly in the mire of despair.

His Perennial Optimism
"One of the most unmistakable characteristics of the president of Gettysburg College has been his perennial optimism. When there was nothing to be cheerful about, he was cheerful; when there was nothing to be hopeful for, he was hopeful; when there was nothing to look forward to, he looked forward. In the darkest nights, he was forever seeing a light; and on the dullest days, he was forever hearing a song.

"The secret ought to be known by all true Christians. One of the best statements of the secret is found in the New Testament Letter to the Hebrews. The author points out that the Creator at the beginning made man only a little lower than the angels, crowned him with glory and honor, and then put him in charge of creation. It is obvious to the author, however, that something has gone wrong. Man gives little evidence him.

"And why shouldn't they? For he, more than any other person, has made this college a renowned and venerated institution of learning. No one who has worked with Elizabeth and Henry Hanson could help but feel a deep rooted and genuine sense of affection for them. Students, faculty, friends, and townspeople have benefited immeasurably from their association with this kindly, devout, and inspirational couple.

"In the years to come your spirit will be lifted and your ability to surmount obstacles will be increased, if you will put into practice the precepts of this college and follow the sterling example of its exalted retiring president.

"May God bless the Class of 1952, as you say 'farewell' to classmates and friends—and may the tomorrows provide you with a serenity of spirit, which alone brings happiness. Having found happiness, my young friends, you will then realize you have attained the ultimate in success.

"And to you my beloved friends Dr. and Mrs. Hanson, I know I speak for the entire Gettysburg family on this, your last official college function, when I say, 'Hail and Farewell,' but not 'Good-bye.' For as long as one brick remains on these hallowed grounds, so will the spirit and affectionate memory of you both echo across the campus."

of glory and honor, and the world is certainly not under his control. There is no getting around the fact that we can see little order and sense in the world around us, the author says, and then he adds this highly significant comment, 'but we see Jesus. . . . THAT is the secret of the president's perennial optimism, I am sure.

"And this leads me to the second thought which must be underlined on this occasion. Over the years Dr. Hanson has not only pointed to the Central Figure of the Christian faith as the only key to unlock the mystery of human existence; he had also renounced with equal insistence the whole concept of tolerance as a tenable interpretation of human relationships. On the one hand he has said, 'Remember Jesus,' and on the other he has said, 'Live above tolerance.'

Two Good Reasons

"There are two very good reasons why tolerance as an ideal is unworthy of a Christian and unworthy of a citizen of this democracy. In the first place, according to its root meaning, to tolerate is to bear with, to put up with, to endure something or someone, and that, said Dr. Hanson on many an occasion, is sub-Christian. Precisely! It is not enough that we should endure or put up with people, and especially with people who don't agree with us. Our attitude to them should be positive, not negative. As citizens of this democracy we must learn to appreciate each other even though we don't belong to the same political party.

"As Christians we must learn to love our fellowmen regardless of the political or religious creed they happen to profess. In the second place, tolerance should be rejected because in practice it cuts the nerve of our witness to the truth as we see it. Dr. Hanson has always been impatient with the man who out of fear or out of confusion will not 'stand up and be counted.' Tolerance usually means indifference, and indifference is a sign of weakness, not of strength.

"Tolerance has come to occupy a prominent position on the American idol shelf. As a people we have become so enamored of this god that tens of thousands are willing today to sacrifice for its sake truth and integrity and honor. The favorite clichés of the cult of tolerance have in the minds of its devotees been elevated almost to the status of Holy Scripture. Here are some of them: 'Live and let live.' 'One religion is as good as another.' 'The important thing is not what you believe but what you do.' 'A man's convictions are his own business.' Some of these clichés are half-truths and some are complete nonsense, but the point is that millions of Americans not only take them seriously—they even identify them with democracy and Christianity!

Two Basic Elements

"Members of the Class of 1952: I appeal to you to do some straight thinking and some courageous acting in regard to this matter. And when you do, keep two basic considerations in mind—two considerations that cannot be separated. The first is this: every individual has the right to worship God according to the dictates of his own conscience. And this is the second: every individual has the right to testify to the faith that is in him and, if possible, to win others to his faith. BOTH are constitutional guarantees. All too frequently freedom of worship is emphasized to the neglect of freedom to witness. And when the right to witness is neglected the right to worship becomes meaningless, and eventually disappears. Our democratic freedoms are based squarely on the presupposition that, given an open field, truth will eventually win the day. A culture based on this presupposition is, therefore, in serious danger when the importance of truth is subordinated to the demands for tolerance.

"We are indebted to C. S. Lewis for calling our attention to the radical difference between nice people and committed persons. Nice people are the saints of the cult of tolerance. But will nice people stop the flood of communism now engulfing the world? Will nice people clean the Augean stables of corruption in government? Will nice people have the power to cut through the amor-

ARMED YANKS CRACK DOWN ON KOJE INSULTS

KOJE ISLAND, Korea, (AP)—U.S. tanks and bayonet armed infantrymen smashed down and burned Communist flags and banners in two prisoner of war compounds today enforcing a "get tough" policy to restore order to this blood-stained island.

Prisoners in a third compound, complying with orders, tore down insulting banners and a statue of a North Korean soldier.

Two forays were made into once bustling enclosures. Chinese and North Korean prisoners, who had murdered fellow prisoners and defied Allied authority, stood cowed before the combat-wise infantrymen—some armed with baseball bats and shillelghs.

They were ordered into the enclosures by the camp commander, Brig. Gen. Hayden L. Boatner.

Finished in 10 minutes
International Red Cross teams stood by to watch the operation. Boatner gave the Reds in Compound 602 several hours' notice to take down their Communist flag and five banners.

Five minutes after the ultimatum expired two Patton tanks—with soldiers with baseball bats and shillelghs sitting on their sides—rumbled into the enclosure. Alongside marched gas-masked U.S. infantrymen their bayonets glistening in the noon day sun and tear gas grenades at their side. A third tank outside the enclosure trained its 90 mm. gun on the Red-Cross prisoners.

The prisoners offered no resistance. The operation was completed in about 10 minutes.

phous mass of our moral confusion and set up signposts once again pointing the way to integrity and honor? The questions are academic. Only deeply committed persons will respond to such Herculean tasks.

"Either-Or" Not "Both-And"

"Nice people try to live a 'both-and' existence. Nice people habitually try to agree with both sides of an issue in the hope that they will offend no one. To these innocuous individuals comes still the thundering word of the Old Testament seer: 'Choose ye this day whom you will serve.'
"Over against the 'both-anders' stand the strong and valiant 'either-or' men with whom rests the hope for the future of mankind. Christ either is the ultimate Truth or he is an impostor. For Christ is the touchstone upon whom is balanced the whole weight of your eternal destiny.

"Members of the Class of 1952: It is my prayer that, remembering Jesus, you will always live above tolerance in the Kingdom of his love where you will serve him in humble obedience so long as life shall last."

AIRMAN STARTS FUND TO HELP KOREAN ORPHANS

OIL CITY, Pa. (AP)—Efforts of U. S. Airmen to brighten the lives of Korean orphans are mushrooming into a nation-wide drive.

It all began shortly before Christmas. Col. Francis S. Gabreski, of Oil City, commanding officer of the 51st U. S. A. F. Fighter Interceptor Wing and one of the nation's leading war aces, suggested the unit share its Christmas spirit with some young victims of Communist aggression — a group of Korean war orphans.

U. N. Lends a Hand Gabreski, with the help of the United Nations Civil Assistance in Korea and two Army chaplains, found the Young Joo Chai-ah orphanage, located in a decaying Buddhist monastery near the ancient walled city of Suwon. The chaplains are Capt. Edward J. Cleary of Memphis, Tenn., and Albert M. Mattheis of Panama City, Fla.

Among the orphans they found seven-year-old Kim, whose face scarred by bombs; five-year-old Chung Un, whose bandage-swathed head still carried pieces of Communist mortar shrapnel; and Sun Ja, a four-year-old youngster whose bare feet and thin cotton rags tell of the hardships of the hard Korean winter.

Newspaper Pushes It Remembering the generosity of his home town folk, Col. Gabreski wrote Oil City's mayor, William A. Morch, and Newspapersman Norman P. Blizel, an appeal for aid.

They helped launch a newspaper campaign to accumulate funds for the orphanage. The response was quick. Food, clothing, medical supplies and money began to pour in.

Nearly $1,200 has been contributed to the Gabreski Fund sponsored by the Derrick Publishing Co. in Oil City. Contributions have arrived from Edinburg, Texas; New York City; Fort Worth, Texas; Alexandria, La.; Kansas City, Mo.; Salisbury, N. C.; Fort Sil, Okla.; and various cities in Pennsylvania.

Give Parking Fines Since the drive opened, the Oil City Police Department has been diverting fines of overtime parking motorists to the fund. About $200 has been collected.

In Korea, the 51st has tabbed the drive "Operations Happiness." Despite their daily tasks of mounting combat sorties, men and officers of the fighter wing still have time to bring a little happiness to the empty stomachs of more than 200 orphans. They've begun the rehabilitation of the Kim's, Sun Ja's and Chung Un's.

Find's Proof Of Jet Ace's Death PANMUNJOM, Korea (AP) — A Communist correspondent today said he had seen photographs which confirm the death of Maj. George A. Davis Jr. America's greatest jet ace when he was shot down Feb. 10.

Alan Wittington of the London Daily Worker told Allied newsmen he saw "within the last day or two" photographs of Davis' body, his identification tag, his pistol and crashed Sabre jet. The pictures appeared in the Communist Chinese-language publication "Liberation Army Pictorial."

Wittington said the paper also carried a full page photograph of Chang Tse-hui, Chinese MIG ace credited with shooting down Davis. The U. S. Air Force officially lists Davis, from Lubbock, Tex., as missing in action. He had a record of 21 planes shot down, including 11 MIGs.

TOKYO POPULATION UP INCREASES TOKYO, (AP) — The population of greater Tokyo has reached 6,912,449, an increase of 373,623 from a year ago, the municipal government reports. The population of the city proper is 5,976,240.

Dutterer and Dean J. Sell. Members of the congregation were given an opportunity to make a contribution to the church building fund.

C. S. BOARD IN SESSION TODAY

"Spiritual understanding alone can pierce today's corruption in government and world confusion and lead mankind to lasting safety and security," the Christian Science Board of Directors said today.

About 7,500 Christian Scientists from throughout the world heard the directors' message at the annual meeting of the Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston.

The directors said that "human ingenuity alone will never solve mankind's deepest problems." But they added that "the means for right adjustment are spiritual and are immediately available."

"Not numbers nor human might but truth—spiritual understanding—is the power that will mold the world's destiny," they declared.

Named President of the Mother Church for the coming year was Lt. Col. Robert Ellis Key, of London, associate editor of the Christian Science religious periodicals. He has been active in the religion for more than 40 years, including service as practitioner, lecturer and authorized teacher.

"The keynote of this century is not chaos but Christ," Colonel Key told the huge crowd. "War and destruction have been associated with the first half of the Twentieth Century, but progress and spiritualization will mark the succeeding years."

"The old materialism must be replaced by a spiritual concept of creation," he added.

ment welcoming him back to this country "but regretting that 'he didn't return sooner.'"

"Now that he is about to take off his battle jacket we of the Republican party hope that he will start fighting," said a statement by Rep. B. Carroll Reece of Tennessee, manager of the committee backing the Ohio senator for the GOP nomination.

As part of Eisenhower's official welcome, he was hurried to the White House yesterday to report to President Truman. He was there almost two hours.

Tours White House
There was also a folksy little intermission while the President spent 50 minutes showing the general about the newly rebuilt executive mansion—into which Eisenhower may or may not move next January.

The plan was for Eisenhower to go again to the White House this afternoon for a ceremony, details of which were to be announced later.

The public welcome accorded the general and his wife was modest and restrained.
